BREAK NEW GROUND WITH CHRONICLE HERITAGE

FIRM PROFILE

Founded in 2006, Chronicle Heritage is a premier cultural heritage-only consulting firm with a track record of successfully completing large-scale archaeological projects in the United States and the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia.

Our services cover all aspects of cultural heritage management, including historic and prehistoric archaeology, conservation, osteology, paleontology, archival research, architectural history, underwater archaeology/remote sensing, public outreach, training, and GIS services. Having completed over 4,000 projects globally, we pride ourselves in our ability to execute complex projects on behalf of our clients.

We accomplish this using a thorough knowledge of archaeological methods, a professional approach to working with our clients, and a full-time staff of qualified individuals who deliver world-class work meeting our clients' needs and industry best practices. Our team consists of over 400 full-time and 450 part-time cultural heritage professionals who collaboratively execute projects throughout the United States and internationally. We keep a team of full-time cultural heritage professionals in Saudi Arabia to support ongoing work in the region, enabling us to react quickly to changing client needs.
